

The Gap This Creates

Function lost while the subtype is still unconfirmed

Every extra month without a confident subtype means delayed, less-targeted care, especially costly for patients who are progressing fast.